

FITTskills Edition 7.3 — Workshop Syllabus

Workshop: Planning for International Market Entry: Making Choices and Establishing the Route to Global Success

Workshop Description:

There are various market entry strategies, and what will work for one industry or market may not be suitable for others. To select the best market to enter, and the strategy that is most likely to be successful in that market, organizations should work through a strategic planning process that incorporates internal and external assessment and research.

This workshop focuses on choosing a market entry strategy, analyzing market entry opportunities, accessing programs and services, and creating an international business plan. It is a continuation of the research and analysis undertaken when determining the feasibility of a venture.

This is the first of four workshops for the course International Market Entry Strategies. Each workshop explores a facet of launching a new international venture.

FITTskills Program:

The Planning for International Market Entry workshop is a key workshop in Edition 7.3 of the FITTskills Program, which has been designed for the independent self-directed learner who is an international trade practitioner with a minimum of two to five years of experience. The FITTskills Program has been developed so that you as a practitioner can ensure you have all the competencies required to take advantage of international trade opportunities.

Pre-Requisites:

- It is recommended that you have the required learning from the Feasibility of International Trade course prior to beginning the Planning for International Market Entry workshop. You can complete the course Feasibility of International Trade or self-assess your knowledge of its content by reviewing the learning outcomes for the course.
- The Planning for International Market Entry workshop assumes you have the necessary basic business and trade knowledge and skills needed for domestic trade, as these fundamentals are not covered in the FITTskills Program.

These questions have also been provided as an interactive quiz on the learning platform.
